IMPUNITY

In 1998, the arrest of Augusto Pinochet in London sends shockwaves around the globe: for the first time, a former dictator could face justice beyond his own country. As two covert operations unfold behind closed doors, a mercenary recruited by an NGO and a Chilean diplomatic envoy are drawn into a labyrinth of conspiracies, betrayals, and geopolitical maneuvering—only to discover, at their own expense, that the real battle for justice is fought far from the courtroom, in the shadows.

LE CHANTIER

"A film of rare elegance, surprising, political and funny, one that deftly probes power dynamics and social inequality by setting its gaze on a key space: the movie theater itself." Cinemania Jury

Filmed over four years, Le chantier follows the restoration of Paris's Pathé Palace under the direction of architect Renzo Piano. Jean-Stéphane Bron looks beyond machinery and design to reveal the human network behind the project: architects, engineers, workers, and cleaners. The documentary becomes both a portrait of collective effort and a reflection on how societies rebuild themselves through shared creation.
